

The Ocean Song

The Ocean, home to fishes
The Ocean home to critters unbelievable to you and me
Better than cartoons, you'll see...

There's lionfish, and hairy fish, and even stick out your tongue fish
There's hermit crabs and mantis shrimp and fish that go to school

But how can you go swim in the sea?
Put your mask on, get your fins, and be ready to

Dive into your imagination with me.
Dive into your imagination with me.

Eight arms for an Octopus, Two claws for a crab
A shark that has tiny teeth, a parrot fish with a great big beak

There's cuddle fish, and pipe fish, with their changing colors
There's clown fish and frog fish and porcupine puffer fish

So how can you go swim in the sea?
Put your mask on, grab your fins, and you're ready to

Dive into your imagination with me.
Dive into your imagination with me.
Splash in the bathtub, have fun in the pool
Let's learn about the fishes, before you get to school
You don't need an Ocean, to learn about the sea
Just use your imagination and dive in with me
Use your imagination and dive in with me

Annie Crawley
diveintoyourimagination.com